
Emma DeLouise
Reflection Entry
Literature

Look Within

Within every being there is goodness and light and within every being there is power and might people starve and people freeze, people ache and people plead, but no one will care, they only give to themselves and that is unfair

What you may know and of course maybe not is that in some small amount we're all pure at heart and whether it's large, or whether it's small a hole of pitch darkness can swallow your soul

So even in the hardest of times remember the good things and all of the light and never for a moment hold doubt for your strength because within your heart you truly are great and great people deserve to believe in their mind that no matter how mean, nasty or unkind everyone is caring and nice and true somewhere inside of them their light shines through for even the worst criminals and robbers and felons have good in there souls though they might not have found it

So maybe next time you're feeling down find your light, bring it out and be proud for you know exactly who you are you're not evil or greedy or dark you're intelligent and beautiful and special and true and any person who doubts this is simply not worthy of you

Authors note

I chose to write poetry because I often write poetry to release tension and to put emotions on paper and although I may not be very social I do like to display emotions with poetry because I am not the best artist when it comes to drawing.
